Prof. Lee Ka Yan David

11 October 2018 ( THU )      2:00pm – 5:00pm      FHKI Conference Room

Leading a healthy life and protecting the environment are closely related. Rapid development and the quest for better living standard lead to over-consumption of daily consumable. Many of the daily consumables are not degradable and the Earth suffers. Waste product disposable will lead to environmental pollution, diseases in human and damage to the ecological environment.

Join us to understand more on the “Environmental Protection, Daily consumable and Health” shared by Institute of Biodegradable Material (IBM). Grasp this opportunity and register now!
