Indonesia Bans Use of US Dollar for Settlement of Domestic Transactions

Indonesia has confirmed that it is banning the use of US dollar for most domestic transactions effective on 1 July 2015. According to the country's central bank, it will be obligatory to use the Rupiah, the local Indonesian currency, to settle the majority of financial arrangements – including salaries and property leases. The move is aimed at propping up the Rupiah, said to be the worst performing currency in Asia. The change was initially mooted in April and, it is believed, it will not affect salary payments for expatriate staff that were originally hired abroad.

印尼禁止國內交易以美元結算

印尼政府決定，由2015年7月1日起，禁止國內大部分交易以美元結算。印尼中央銀行表示，大部分財政安排(包括薪酬及物業租賃)必須以該國貨幣印尼盾結算。印尼此舉旨在支持印尼盾匯價。在各種亞洲貨幣中，印尼盾匯價表現最為疲弱。印尼當局早於4月提出這項措施，相信原本於海外聘用的外籍僱員在薪酬支付方面將不受影響。
