FS John Tsang presented awards to winners of FHKI's Industry Cares CSR Scheme

Financial Secretary John Tsang presented the Grand Caring Awards of the Federation of Hong Kong Industries' (FHKI) Industry Cares Recognition Scheme 2016 to winners of Enterprise and SME Groups respectively at the 56th FHKI Annual General Meeting (AGM) Luncheon held today (12 July). Laws Fashion Group Limited and Grandion Industrial Limited were awarded Grand Caring Awards under the Enterprise Group and SME Group respectively.

Now in its fourth year, the FHKI's Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Recognition Scheme – Industry Cares aims to inculcate the importance of CSR to the industries and encourage companies to integrate CSR spirit and culture in their daily operations.

FHKI Chairman Prof Daniel M Cheng said, "Many people have wrongly perceived that only large corporations could have the resources to undertake CSR obligations. However, over 90 per cent of Hong Kong enterprises are small-to-medium enterprises (SMEs). The role of these SMEs in promoting social progress is also very important. Under the Industry Cares Recognition Scheme, regardless of the scale of the CSR projects, enterprises that participated in or held self-organised no less than three projects in one year, will be given recognition. This year, we have stepped up the promotion of the Scheme with caring sponsorships from KPMG and Ocean Park and have attracted keen participation from member companies."

"By sharing the experience of conducting CSR projects or activities, more enterprises will be encouraged to undertake CSR projects. In turn, Hong Kong can nurture a CSR culture in the business community," Prof Cheng said.

The judging panel of this year's Scheme was chaired by Dr Joseph Lee, President of Wofoo Social Enterprises. Other members include Florence Hui, Under Secretary for Home Affairs; Dr K T Chan, Principle Lecturer of Faculty of Applied Social Science, Hong Kong Polytechnic University; Jackie Lee, Senior Manager of Corporate Social Responsibility, KPMG; Cliff Sun, FHKI Honorary President and CSR Committee member; and Arthur Ho, FHKI Director-General.
